February 2021 Worship

As we enter the month of February, we continue the journey of personal and communal renewal and renovation that happens when we tap into the Parables of Jesus. We have been walking through several of Jesus' parables during our weekly video services and have been digging deeper in our weekly audio podcast. We will continue to unearth what God is speaking to us through Jesus' parables in early February.

This year provides us with an early Easter (April 3), Ash Wednesday (February 17), and Lenten season, which means all of us will be considering the path to the cross beginning in February in our online services. It seems fitting that we look at the Parables of Jesus because they point us to the paradoxically Christian path of finding life through death - that on the other side of the cross we find God! It is a difficult message for us to wrap our minds around, and very often Jesus' teachings and words don't make sense to our rational minds. But through experience we can attest to the life-giving freedom that comes when one "lays down their life for their friends." That even amid the brokenness of our world, God is still alive and active through the Body of Christ.

Please join us online, share our weekly services with a friend, and take advantage of this time in your home to meditate on what God has done for you and through you in the world. Both our video service and audio podcast can be found on our "Sermons" page on our church website.

Dialogue with the Dialogue on Mondays at 11:00 a.m. We will continue the weekly Zoom discussion about the audio service dialogue on Mondays. This is a chance to go deeper, to engage with the worship leadership and each other, and to nurture our connection together. This will be a recurring weekly Zoom meeting with the same address link. This conversation is open for interested people from both congregations. The Zoom connection link and meeting information is listed below.

Music Ministry

We usually associate the word “waiting” with Advent, but here we are midway through January and we are all still waiting and hoping. I remember getting vaccinated in elementary school to prevent small pox in our lunchroom. As we stood in line, kids were complaining, and some were crying. I think back how that tiny injection has kept me safe for many, many years from a disease that once killed so many. As we waited for the birth of our Savior during Advent, with the coming of the COVID vaccinations, we pray for only joy and light at the end of this dark tunnel.

The Music Ministry team met in January to work on supporting and enhancing our CUMC word and worship services. We tossed out ideas that might include a few more of our many talented musicians who could make music together safely. Small groups of handbells introducing hymns, Sunday School students singing or playing on videos made in their homes, and potential Zoom choir rehearsals. If you or your family is interested in being part of this extended music making, please give Ellie Wilmeth a call (262-302-9175), and we’ll get you music, prayers, or scripture to contribute.

Zoom isn’t ideal for music making but through a Facebook connection called Liturgy Fellowship, an ELCA church in the state of Washington has offered to share some of things they’ve been trying. A few of the Music Ministry team “sat-in” on one of their virtual rehearsals to gather ideas. They greeted us warmly and graciously shared with us.

Attention Chancel Choir members and other interested individuals; the Music Ministry team will be experimenting with a new format of virtual choir rehearsal starting in February that will hopefully feel more akin to the in-person rehearsals that everyone has been missing. It will involve some level of familiarity with platforms such as Zoom and Google Dropbox, but support can be given to those that need it. We hope everyone interested in singing also has a hymnal at home. If not, we have hymnals available for check out. Any participation is welcomed and greatly appreciated. More information to come soon. If interested, you can contact Lucas Detwiler (ldetwiler7@gmail.com).

In the meantime, we search for music that lifts up the word and our spirits. We, too, are looking forward to when we can safely worship together again.

Family Promise Update

Seven families—13 people—are in the program. One family is renting the apartment above the Family Promise offices in Port Washington.

CUMC will be providing the evening meal for Monday, Feb. 8th, as the guests are still staying at the Chalet Motel in Mequon.

Currently, Family Promise is in need of paper products: toilet paper, paper towels, plates, bowls, and napkins. Plastic knives are also needed. If you are able to donate any items, the perfect times would be Friday, Feb 5th from 1:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m., at CUMC, when church members will be dropping off soup for the Souper Bowl, OR Saturday, Feb. 6th from 9:00 a.m. —noon when you can purchase a container or two of soup!!

Bins for the Family Promise paper products will be between the two lobby doors at these times. THANK YOU!

A note of gratitude from Shirley Westphal

My family and I want to thank everyone for their condolences and prayers upon the loss of my mother on New Year's Eve. Even when we cannot be together, the outpouring of cards and messages was so very comforting. I also want to thank the members of the Choir and Acts 29 for the beautiful flowers.

Mom was a faithful member of United Methodist congregation in Tomahawk, Wisconsin. Her church friends shared their love for her with our family at a memorial service on January 16th. It was a lovely day to remember and celebrate her life.

Thank you again for your prayers of comfort. Shirley, Mark and Emily Westphal

Women of Faith

Women of Faith are reading Revealing the Mysteries of Heaven Study Guide. The group met on January 11, and shared joys, laughter, prayer concerns, and their holiday reports. They discussed rewards to be given in heaven--the good, better, and best--described in Lesson 5, "Heaven's Oscars." Women of Faith will continue to stay warm and dry in the comfort of home for virtual meetings, either joining online or connecting via a phone call during the winter. The February 8th meeting will focus on Lesson 6, "The Heavenly City," as described in Revelations 21 and 22.

New members are invited, and those interested are encouraged to contact Pastor Don Greer, Pastor John Strassburger, or the church office. Meetings via freeconferencecall.com are on the second Monday of the month at 1:15 p.m. When warmer days arrive, they are looking forward to being able to hold outdoor, in-person meetings safely.

Care Connections Ministry

Approximately 20 CUMC members sent greeting cards at Thanksgiving and Christmas to our members aged 60 and above. We enjoyed thinking about and praying for the folks whom we greeted in this outreach effort. We hope to repeat this effort for Valentine's Day and Easter. When all is said and done, over 400 cards will have been sent out to let folks know how much they are thought of and loved by CUMC. Sure, would it be more fun to greet each other in person but in the meantime, we create new ways of connecting. The 40 Plus Small Group continues its Birthday card ministry with the help of Pastor John. He signs them, we send them! Add approximately 180 birthday cards to our 400 greeting cards and we are closing in on 600 cards sent out beginning last fall! In this day of tech everything, sometimes it's just nice to get something other than junk mail! We want to thank all those folks involved in this effort to keep us connected.

Our care calls to those over 80 continue throughout the winter. If you know of someone who is experiencing loneliness, depression, and pandemic fatigue, please let Sarah Lovy, head of our Befriender Ministry, know and we'll connect you to a caller.

Senior Ministry

We are moving into the second month of the new year. Are you, on occasion like me, still writing 2020? It's born of habit. Accepting the new sometimes takes time, even when we may be looking forward to changes. The "old" can retain some hold on us while we are moving forward. In some respects it would be easier if we could simply set some of the past down and embrace what is coming to us from God's future.

On the road of faith, the Spirit of God calls to us from what is meant to be realized. I believe we are most alive when we sense that we are being receptive or open to God's dreaming. Jesus said: "The Spirit blows where it wishes, but you do not know where it comes from or where it is going..." Our best response is a willingness to put ourselves at God's disposal. Our discernment of God's movement within and among us is through a prayerful heart and the wise company of the community of faith.

I am grateful for the church. New things will be coming to us as a church during this year. I pray that I will be open to that which we will share together and grateful for God's sustaining presence throughout our lives.

*God bless you,
Pastor John Strassburger*

The Finance/Stewardship Committee would like to update you on the financial position of CUMC for 2020 and 2021 as well as officer changes in the committee. Needless to say, we ended the year very well. The giving in December was generous, and we appreciate the support from everyone. Below is a summary of our Operating Statement compared to Budget for 2020 reflecting a net profit of over $8,000.

The roof project was a great success. The total project cost was just over $130,000; well below the original budget of $160,000. We owe thanks to Ross Eggert for securing the bids, managing and monitoring the project. Well done! Once all outstanding commitments are collected, the roof will be 100% paid!

We would like to thank Randy Roupp for serving on the Finance/Stewardship Committee for many years. He has been a valuable member, and will be hard to replace. Shirley Krenzke will be moving from Treasurer to Finance Secretary, Randy's role. We would like to welcome Jesse Windmiller, as a new member of the committee who has assumed the role of Treasurer. Many thanks to him.

Greetings

from the Mosaic Family Ministry at Community UMC!

Blessings on you and your family!

We hope you are well. We know you are tired and many of you are just keeping your heads above water with schedules and trying to find balance in life. We're so happy to hear that many of you have been able to find a rhythm in this new era of life that has led us to work and learn from home more often than many of us would like.

With that in mind, we'd love to help come alongside your family and make things a little easier for you. We know that many of you find it difficult to talk to your kids about faith in natural ways that don't seem forced. We know that a forced "spiritual" conversation with our kids often backfires. Yet we also understand that many of you want to convey to your kids the importance of following Jesus, and the practical reasons why it makes sense for them. Because of this we want to try something simple and new. We would love to send you a copy of a book called "Faithful Families." The author wrote this book for busy families who barely find enough time for their scheduled activities and find it hard to find time for intentional faith-forming moments. If you have a desire to grow closer spiritually but don't know where to start, send me an email (nateg@cedarburgcumc.org) and let me know that you'd like a copy of Faithful Families. We would love to mail you a copy and get your family moving into some new and simple spiritual practices at home.

Additionally, Lent is a time in which we prepare ourselves and dedicate ourselves again to the message of the cross of Jesus. This past November we focused on the book of Proverbs with blog posts and videos on www.cumcmosaic.com - our Mosaic Family Ministry website. Many of you voiced how meaningful that was to you. Because of this, we are going to journey through selected Psalms during the time of Lent on our Mosaic Website. If you haven't checked out that site, please do so, and "Subscribe" to our YouTube channel so that you can keep up with our Lenten journey. This is just one other simple way you can grow more while we continue to social distance and isolate this winter.

We also want to recognize that it has been a long year with many challenges in every part of society. Part of the disruption has been felt in our Youth Ministry, as we have not been able to meet physically for about 11 months! We know that the rhythms of your life have changed, and for many of you the way you do life is drastically different than it was a year ago. Because of that we will be holding a "Parents of Mosaic Family Ministries" Zoom Call on Sunday, February 28 at 6:30 p.m. where you can openly share how life and schedules have changed for you as well as what you'd love to see our youth and family ministries look like moving into the future. In many ways we need to reimagine what God would like to do in the lives of our students, but we first need to know how youth group and youth ministry fits into your family's busy schedules. So, come with an open heart - willing to share how things have changed for your family; and with an open mind - willing to dream and pray together about what God might do in our group moving forward. (Please email Nate Gruber - nateg@cedarburgcumc.org to let him know if you're coming, and you will be sent an email with the Zoom login for the night.)

Lastly, we have a fun day of Family Sledding planned for Saturday, February 20 from 1:00-3:00pm at Mee Kwon Park (6333 W Bonniwell Rd. Mequon). Please bring your own sled, a mask to wear, and then join us afterwards (3:00-3:30pm) on the patio at CUMC for some hot chocolate around the fire pit on the patio. Tell your friends to come on out for this fun, socially distanced family event!

Upcoming Events:

Lenten Psalm Journey: Blog and Video Series
@ www.cumcmosaic.com (begins Feb. 17)

Family Sledding Event: Saturday, Feb. 20 from 1:00-3:00pm @ Mee Kwon Hill; 3:00-3:30pm @ CUMC Patio

Parents of Mosaic Zoom Call: Sunday, Feb. 28 at 6:30

Mosaic KIDS

Kindness. Sadly, in today's world, this has become more of a buzz word than an actual behavior. So often, we get lost and we go throughout our day thinking only of ourselves and ourselves alone. We get caught up in our day-to-day routines: striving to climb higher and higher, get more and more. But are our lives really are measured by our monetary success? Are the material, tangent things we have at the end of the day truly what matters most? I know as you read this, you are probably answering "no" to both questions. That is, after all, what we are supposed to say, right? But do our lives reflect this? Are we fulfilled by possessions or by goodness in spirit, in kindness, in generosity, in consideration?

I hope you take some time to think about this and let this be a call to action. Believe me, I know that many of you are genuinely kind, both in your behavior and in your actions. But let this be a call to action to inspire kindness in others by living our lives in a way that reflects goodness towards our families, our friends, those in need and those who are different from us. Once it starts, it is so contagious.

Have you ever gone through a Starbuck's (or any) drive thru to find that the car ahead of you paid for your order? It is the best when that happens. Not because someone else paid for you but because it brightens your day and inspires you to be kind; to pay it forward. If this has happened to you, you paid for the order placed by the car behind you, didn't you? Because kindness is contagious. For me, there has never been a time in which I financially came out ahead because of these random acts of kindness; the order behind me is always more expensive than mine but that is not the point. It is about the joy it brought to my day, in the inspiration, the reminder to be kind to others, because we are all God's family.

Let me offer a true definition. Kindness is a behavior marked by acts of generosity, consideration, or concern for others without expecting anything in return. In its truest form, it is not about the limelight, praise or reward. It is doing something, actively, that does not require notoriety, that does not require payback. It is about doing good because we are good, more importantly because God is absolutely good. He created us and entrusted us to take care of our world and of each other.

God was kind to us even when we did not deserve it. Because of His love for us, we can be kind to everyone. Those we know and those we do not know. Those who are like us and those who are different from us. Everyone. Kindness is a fruit of the Spirit. When you show kindness to others, you give them a glimpse into the heart of God, and you show them how much God loves them.

Kindness should be a characteristic of people who follow Jesus. Not only did Jesus model kindness He also commanded it. He taught us to treat others the way we want to be treated. It is the "Golden Rule", Matthew 7:12(a), "So in everything, do to others what you would have them do to you."

Throughout the month of February, children's ministry will focus on kindness. We will emphasize that kindness is not just a word or the latest fad; it is an action. It is a conscious decision to do for others, to accept others despite our differences, and it is to do these things without the expectation of reward or acknowledgement. It is being kind because we strive to be good.

Each week our messages will concentrate on one of four key concepts:

1. Be kind to others because God is kind to you.
2. Be kind to family and friends.
3. Be kinder than you have to be.
4. Be kind to people who are different from you.

While these messages are delivered via our children's ministry venues (primarily Facebook and our family website, www.cumcmosaic.com), I invite everyone of all ages to engage in these teachings. We certainly can all learn to be kinder and inspire others by our acts of kindness. It is contagious!

"You are God's chosen people. You are holy and dearly loved. So, put on tender mercy and kindness as if they were your clothes. Don't be proud. Be gentle and patient." ~ Colossians 3:12, NIRV

Super Bowl Soup Sale

The Mission Outreach Committee will again be sponsoring a Super Bowl Soup Sale. The proceeds of this year's sale will go towards the missionary that CUMC supports, Patrick Mwinkeu. You will remember that, for many years, we have supported Paul Webster and the Mujila Falls Agriculture Mission in Zambia. Paul will be retiring this year, and at his suggestion we began looking for a new missionary to support. Patrick, his wife and children currently reside in Zambia, but their agriculture mission will be near Durban, South Africa. You can read more about Patrick at our website: cedarburgcumc.org/outreach/

This year the Super Bowl will be held on Sunday, February 7. The Soup Sale will take place on Saturday, February 6, from 9:00 am - 12:00 pm at CUMC.

We are asking interested congregants to make one or more quarts of their favorite soup (or chili), and deliver it to church between 1:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. on Friday, February 5, or between 8:00 a.m. - 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, February 6. Members of the Outreach Committee will set out the donated soups in the church lobby on that Saturday, and church members and friends can come in, select their purchases, and leave while maintaining safe distancing. Of course, masks will be required.

Soup will sell for $10.00 per quart.

We have had 100 quart containers donated to CUMC for this fund-raiser. These containers/lids will be made available between the inner and outer doors of church on Monday, February 1, from 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. For those of you who want to make and donate soup, please stop by church, pick up as many containers as necessary, and please indicate on the sign-up sheet your name and the number of containers that you have taken.

Because some of our congregants are not active on the internet or Facebook, please pass this information on to anyone that you think might be interested in participating.

If you have any questions, please contact Susie Heiniger (414)303-6739 or Judy McCullum (262)339-1092

Thank you in advance for helping to make this activity successful, and for allowing us to continue in a Covenant Relationship with our United Methodist Missionary. And let's hope the Packers will be in the big game!

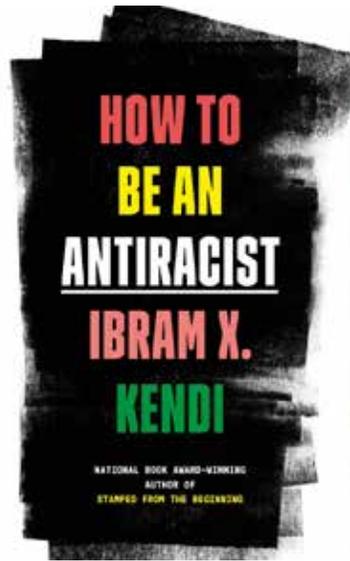

Updates on "How to be an Antiracist"

This book, "How to Be an Antiracist," by Ibram X

Kendi, continues to open the eyes of the 22 of us (from many faith communities and private citizens) who are not only reading this book, but are having discussions about the many things that are occurring in Ozaukee County and beyond. We are learning that shifting away from racist policies and taking power back for those that have had little power with the current policies, is done with hard work, dedication and an open mind. And ... there is much happening in Ozaukee County ... as a result of people in this group ... that is opening our eyes to policies in our cities, in our schools, and yes ... even in our churches.

On February 3rd, we will have a guest speaker, Jaamal Smith, who is from the "Violence Prevention Office in the City of Milwaukee. I "discovered" Jamaal when he appeared on John Ridley's show about racism this past fall. Jamaal impressed me as passionate, informative, and dedicated to his job with the Milwaukee Health Department. In speaking with Jaamal, he said he will talk with us about the complexity of violence prevention through the Public Health Department. This is a newer approach where their mission is reducing violence in Milwaukee. His Office of Violence Prevention "provides strategic direction and oversight for City efforts to reduce risk of violence through linked strategies in partnership with government, non-profit, neighborhood, and faith organizations." We will also have our ears and hearts open to questions and suggestions as to how we, in Ozaukee County, can help with "violence prevention."

Many in our group were involved in the first annual Ozaukee Interfaith Celebration of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday. This Zoom event featured speakers ... high school through older ... music, and inspirational words from Martin Luther King Jr. Eight faith communities came together for this event, which turned out to be a very special 90 minutes ... with no technical issues! We ended our time together with the question, "Where do we go from here?" We talked a bit on Zoom and those who would like to further this conversation can email Pastor Alexis Twito at AdventLutheran.pastor@adventchurch.org

Many of the issues that Kendi talks about in his book have to do with how racism has been a battle in the past and how often the old methods failed. As Kendi states, "It is not possible to change the mind of another person about areas of racism without first changing policies that promote racism." As 22-year-old Amanda Gorman stated in her poem, "The Hill We Climb," at President Biden and Vice-President Harris' inauguration on January 20, 2021 ... "We will rebuild, reconcile and recover in every known nook of our nation, in every corner called our country our people diverse and beautiful will emerge battered and beautiful. When day comes, we step out of the shade aflame and unafraid. The new dawn blooms as we free it. For there is always light. If only we're brave enough to see it. If only we're brave enough to be it."

If interested in sitting in on this class or if you have questions, please contact Pat Morrissey at patmorrissey19@gmail.com Thank You!

An antiracist idea is any idea that suggests the racial groups are equals in all their apparent differences—that there is nothing right or wrong with any racial group.

A Symbol of Hope

As we begin our Lenten journey this year, members of the 40 Plus Small Group would like to invite others to join them in creating a symbol of hope. On Thursday evening (7:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.) February 18, they are offering a Zoom class on making a beaded dragonfly. Dragonflies have flown the earth for 300 million years and symbolize our ability to overcome times of hardship—something we can all relate to during this past year. Pre-packaged kits containing a sample dragonfly, beads, and wire will be available for pickup in the front entrance of the church beginning February 4. We ask that prior to picking up your kit, you let Ellie Wilmeth (elliewilmeth@gmail.com) know you are planning to take the class so we can plan our kits accordingly. Supplies that you will want to have on hand include: a styrofoam tray to hold your beads, a small sized needle nose plier, and a wire cutter. Deb DeBoer will lead us in this class. Questions? Contact Ellie at 262-302-9175.
